- Our SAG-AFTRA approved studio offers a variety of services, including voiceover recording, ADR, dubbing, audiobook recording, audio post-production for advertisement and film, and more. With multiple studios and several trained engineers, we have the space and expertise to handle the needs of your project.
- We're equipped to connect with studios and talent all over the world using a variety of connecting softwares. These include SourceConnect, SourceNexus, Riverside.fm, Audiomovers ListenTo, and more. Our experience with feature films, television, and commercial post-production means that we know best practices and follow industry standards.
- The needs of every project are different. We recognize these needs and are ready to accommodate them. Give us a call or an email - we would love to show you our space and talk with you about your project.
